No to Violence

Working together to end men's family violence

Active Bystander Training

Everyday conversations challenging the drivers of men's family violence

Our 4 hour bystander workshop covers...

- › Identifying subtle and complicit reinforcement of sexist beliefs in everyday conversations
- › Practical skills for inviting reflection and change
- › Hands-on, interactive activities that put theory into action

Everyday conversations that invite change...

Drawing on our knowledge and experience of men's family violence and behaviour change intervention, this training aims to increase the understanding, skills and confidence to have respectful conversations that contribute to change
